

MAGGIE HARDY MAGERKO

Owner and President

Serving as owner and president of the 84 Lumber Company since 1992, Maggie Hardy Magerko oversees day-to-day operations of 84 Lumber and its more than 250 stores, component manufacturing plants, custom door shops, custom millwork shops, and engineered wood product (EWP) centers nationwide.

Maggie's energetic approach and aggressive goals have been critical success factors in 84 Lumber's operation and growth. Under Maggie's leadership, 84 Lumber refocused concentration on its original niche – the professional market – helping the company top $1 billion in sales for the first time in 1994 and $2 billion in 2004.

A $2.5 billion company in 2015, Maggie has made a number of strategic moves for 84 Lumber, navigating through difficult times to strengthen the company's position as the nation's leading privately held building materials supplier. She strikes a delicate balance between maintaining 84 Lumber's traditional approach to doing business, and adapting to meet the ever-changing needs of the customer.

Under Maggie's leadership, 84 Lumber is a nationally certified Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC) company and was named on Forbes' 2016 List of America's 250 Best Mid-Size Employers.

Maggie Hardy Magerko was appointed to the role of owner and president by her father and company founder, Joseph A. Hardy III, and has a lifetime of experience growing up within the company.
